CORNELL UNIVERSITY LIBRARY
REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN
1935-36

To the President of the University:

SIR: I have the honor to submit the report of the Librarian of the University Library for the year beginning July 1, 1935 and ending June 30, 1936.

For a number of years each annual report of the Librarian has begun with a sad reiteration of the statement that the present library building had long since ceased to afford adequate housing for the University's main book collection. With a feeling of joyous gratitude, shared not only by all members of the library staff, but by faculty and students also, the Librarian is able to record the fact that a measure of relief is in sight. By the action of the Board of Trustees it was determined to carry out the plan for an extension of the present stack space by enclosing with two walls and a roof, the exterior right angle formed by the South and the West wing of the present library building. The space thus enclosed will hold nine decks or floors for book shelves, for a photostat room and storage space, and for a seminar room.

The present plans for the new book stacks promise shelf space for about 200,000 volumes. This is the equivalent of about one-third of the books now abnormally compressed into the present stack space. A normal redistribution of our present holdings would practically use up the new space. But even under these conditions the sensation of relief from unutterable restraint and bondage cannot fail to make the Library a more efficient part of the University's practical equipment. The new plan does not provide more space for the technical staff, which now works under great disadvantages. That the Trustees have seen fit to increase the present inadequate staff by two additional cataloguers and an unskilled "library helper" to be added in the coming year, is another source of satisfaction and an added reason for grateful appreciation. The Librarian ventures to repeat a statement made in his last report. An adequate provision for book space and work space required by a collection as large as ours, with facilities commensurate with the size and importance of the University, can be made only in a new, modern library building.

STAFF

During the year Mrs. Anneliese S. Caster, catalogue typist, resigned and was succeeded by Miss Virginia Seery. The Librarian records with regret the death on April 14, 1936 of Dr. Andrew C. White of Ithaca who had been the Assistant Librarian from 1889 until his retirement in 1923.

FACULTY RESEARCH ASSISTANT

The Trustees have decided to continue at the University's expense the position of Dr. Henry H. King as Faculty Research Assistant. Dr. King began his work as an experiment which had been suggested by Dr. Harlow Shapley, Director of the Harvard Observatory, and was financed for four years by the Carnegie Corporation.

FEDERAL EMERGENCY RELIEF STUDENT EMPLOYEES

As in the preceding year Federal Relief student employees, varying in number from twelve to fourteen, found work in the Library. They continued some of the projects begun last year. Their work consisted in covering unbound magazines, pamphlets and maps, lettering covers and signs, repairing torn maps, book pages, and torn book backs, sorting duplicate magazines and duplicate books, listing duplicate books, sorting and wrapping old newspapers, repacking and lettering the Library's collection of publications by the Faculty and Alumni, dusting books, and numerous other smaller tasks. An important single undertaking was the typing on cards of a duplicate of the card catalogue of books added to the Petrarch collection since the publication of the printed catalogue in 1916.

EXHIBITION

The Icelandic exhibit arranged by Professor Halldór Hermannsson was replaced by an exhibit of early American playbills from the collection bequeathed by Benno Loewy, which reached the Library in 1924. The exhibit includes bills from New York (1791-1835), Philadelphia (1822-1855), Baltimore (1795-1857), New Orleans (1829), Washington, D.C. (1863), Pittsburgh (1834), Saint Louis (1830-1839).

Just before the end of the year Professor William Strunk, Jr. of the Department of English, made it possible to exhibit in one show case a number of items connected with the production of a screen version of Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet. Professor Strunk had been the "literary consultant" for this production to the firm which made the film.

ACCESSIONS

The total amount expended for books during the year was $30,754.14. The total number of additions was 9,841. Miss Ingersoll, head of the Accessions Department, reports that 7,919 items were added to the general collection, the remainder going to special collections. Of the general acquisitions 4,403 were purchased and 3,521 were gifts.

Of accessions to the endowed collections the following are worthy of special mention. The Fiske Petrarch Collection was enriched by the addition of one of those elusive works which have managed to escape the eyes of collectors and bibliographers, because dealers do not realize the exact nature of the work they offer for sale. François de Grenaille's French translation of Petrarch's "De remediis utriusque fortunæ" has hitherto been known only in its second edition of 1644, although a first edition of 1641 was vouched for by a "privilege" dated May 28, 1641 and an "Achevé d'imprimer" dated October 5, 1641 and repeated in the 1644 edition. The first recorded copy of the actual first edition is the one secured by Professor Hamilton, Curator of the Fiske Petrarch Collection, from a dealer's catalogue which offered it as François de Grenaille's "Le sage resolu contre l'adversité."

Among the acquisitions of the Icelandic Collection (Professor Halldór Hermannsson, Curator) is a fine facsimile edition of one of the oldest Icelandic manuscripts in existence, a twelfth century codex, now in Stockholm, of a "Book of Homilies."

GIFTS

The Library counts itself fortunate in being able to record an actual increase in endowment by several individual gifts this year. To the several donors the Librarian here makes a public acknowledgment of the debt of gratitude which we owe to these benefactors. Mr. William F. E. Gurley of the Class of 1877, a staunch and faithful friend and donor of long standing, established an endowment fund of $1,000 to be known as "The Anna S. Gurley Memorial Book Fund." The income is to be used for the purchase of books in the field of the drama. In addition, Mr. and Mrs. Gurley have continued the long succession of contributions of books of all kinds, with especial emphasis on Shakespeareana. Mrs. Miriam S. Weyl established a fund of $1,000, known as "The Weyl Book Fund" in memory of her son James Saller Weyl of the Class of 1929. The income is for the purchase and care of books in the University Library.

The friends of Emeritus Professor George Lincoln Burr presented to the University a "Burr Memorial Fund" of $1,300. The income is being used under the direction of Professor Burr, for such books as he would like to see added to the Library.

Of special significance, in that it comes from within the University and not from a friendly donor not connected with the University, is the fund of $2,000 turned over for the use of the Library by the Department of Economics. The fund is the result of an accumulation of students' fees and the income is to be used for books of interest to the Department.

For a second time the Class of 1899 made to the Library an outright gift of $600, the income of a Class Fund which is to be eventually presented to the University. The choice of the Library as the beneficiary of the interest accruing in the meantime is another of those signs of recent interest taken by Alumni in the fortunes of this part of the University. In its immediate benefits it is second only to the annual grant of $5,000 made by the Trustees from Alumni Contributions at the request of the Cornellian Council which, in the past year, for the fourth time has protected our Library from the catastrophic setback which would have resulted from the shrinkage of our endowment income. Contributions in cash from single individuals, like that received from Mr. Elmer M. Johnson of Ithaca, merit a specially grateful comment.

To the government agencies, the various foundations, the societies, the editors and publishers of journals and the corporations who have so generously sent us their publications we offer our hearty thanks. The numerous faculty members who have in many and various ways added to our collections are not the least significant benefactors in our list.

Of individual donors of books the following is a mere random selection from the many who have earned our gratitude. All their names are listed in an appendix to this report.

Mr. John R. Armstrong of Rochester, N. Y. presented us with two folio volumes of William Maitland's "The History and survey of London" (1756). Captain S. A. Ashe of Raleigh, N. C. sent his "A Southern view of the invasion of the Southern States and the war of 1861-1865." Mr. Yakichi Ataka of Osaka, Japan donated two recent books on Buddhism by Deisetz Tertaro Suzuki. The late Mrs. Frederick Bedell gave us 237 miscellaneous volumes. Mr. J. T. Littleton of the Corning Glass Works offered "The electrical properties of glass" by Littleton and Morey (1933). From Miss Cornelia Baker Cornish of Mansfield, Pa. we received her "The geography and history of Cortland County, N. Y." (1935). Dr. N. M. Crouse of Ithaca donated Volume 16 of the Canadian Historical Review and Volume 41 of the Bulletin des recherches historiques. Dr. Henry P. De Forest of New York sent 250 volumes from his own library as well as some 700 pamphlets, magazines and reprints, mostly on medicine and finger-printing; and again, as in past years, a number of journals from the Library of the Cornell Club of New York, which are not on the University Library's list. Ambassador Walter E. Edge gave us his "Speeches and public statements" (1933). From Mr. R. I. Edwards of New York came eleven volumes of the "Writings of H. D. Thoreau", seven volumes of J. G. Whittier, Philip Hone's "Diary" (1910), and R. A. Abbott's

"Francis Bacon" (1935). Mr. Victor Emanuel of New York enriched the Library's Wordsworth Collection by the gift of two autograph letters of William Wordsworth and a poem of eighty lines in the poet's handwriting. Professor Paul D. Evans of the University of Vermont has added, as in past years, to our files of Welsh periodicals printed in New York State. Professor Graydon L. Freeman, of Chicago University, presented his "Diurnal variations in performance and energy expenditure" (1935) and his "The child and his picture book" (1935). Mr. N. J. Galucci of Ithaca donated Caroline F. E. Spurgeon's "Shakespeare's imagery" (1935). Mr. Fairfax Harrison of Washington, D. C. donated two volumes of "Early American turf stock, 1730-1830" (1934). Mrs. Mabel M. Hebel gave, in memory of her husband, the late Professor William J. Hebel, ten valuable volumes of seventeenth century English literature. The Abbé Victor Leroquais of Paris, France, sent us his "Un livre d'heures" (1935). From Mr. Lucius N. Littauer of New York came six volumes of the selected works of Hyman G. Enelow. To Mr. Robert P. Ludlum of Ithaca we owe ten volumes of the "Documents relating to the colonial history of New York State". Mr. James McCall of Bath, N. Y., donated five miscellaneous volumes. From Mrs. Edward Lee McClain we received three large volumes of "The Washington ancestry and records of the McClain, Johnson and forty other colonial American families" (1932). Mr. Amos B. McNairy of Cleveland, Ohio, sent us "An Austin Dobson letter book" and the Rowfant Club Yearbook (1935). From Mr. Frederick J. Nettlefold of London, Eng., came C. Reginald Grundy's luxurious "Catalogue of the pictures and drawings in the collection of Frederick John Nettlefold" vol. 2, (D-H). Professor Wallace Notestein, Professor Frances H. Relf, and Mr. Hartley Simpson contributed the seven volumes of their "Commons debates, 1621" (1935). From Mr. Carroll H. Owen we received the manuscript diary for 1875 of a Cornell student, W. P. Sturges. The Rev. E. L. Pennington of Ocala, Fla., gave us seven photographic reproductions of 18th century and early 19th century documents relating to the Jones family of Savannah, Ga., and several of his own writings. Mr. William Hazlitt Smith of Ithaca donated fourteen volumes of American local histories. Dr. Vilhjalmur Stefansson presented the Library with "The Markland sagas" by Jones and Raddle (1934). The Hon. William Sulzer added several filing boxes of personal correspondence to the Sulzer papers already in our Library, and gave us eighty miscellaneous volumes. Mr. Z. D. Sung of Shanghai, China, sent his "Symbols of Yi King" (1934) and "Text of Yi King" (1935). Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Treman of Ithaca presented us with the edition-de-luxe of Peterkin and Ulman's "Roll, Jordan, Roll". Mr. John P. Young of Ithaca continued his many earlier donations with Carl Christensen's "Index filicum, supplementum tertium, 1917-1933".
